Letter of Recommendation for Digital Academy Interns Rofhiwa Tshivhenga

The above mention candidate has been a part of the RBB Home Loans teams for the past 4 months. Since Rofhiwa's inception in the team they have demonstrate a forth coming attitude in wanting to learn and achieve more then there worth as interns.

They have since started with compliance tests allowing them to be within regulations of the banking environment. Rofhiwa has been given the opportunity to do development on initiatives aligned with the group's strategy of moving to AWS (Amazon Web Services). Home Loans embarked on a journey to decommission its RVS system and rebuild it with the business requirements of querying only historic data.

He has gained hands on skills in AWS using open source technologies such as Node.js, Angular, NPM and applying themselves to data clean up techniques when migrating from IBM DB2 to MySQL on an Amazon Aurora database.

Up and above this exposure they have gained valuable experience applying agile methodologies while working in a team consisting of Rofhiwa and Stanley and Neil. Rofhiwa has also understood the technology environment in terms of stability by creating documentation for the CVA (Cloud Valuation Application) on development setup and configuration and applying himself to disaster recovery documentation.

I would recommend him in any new environment for his interest in improving himself and providing a valuable service to the organisation.

Line manager: Shainal Vallabh
